Damage to the Walsh and Erie Canal.

The injuries to the Walsh and Erie Canal by the floods of the 11th of June will interrupt through navigation for a portion of the season. East of Lago the Canal is unharmed. Thence to Peru the damage is slight. Between Peru and the lower end of slack water there are several breaks. Boats may reach Delhi early in July, and will cut by the 12th. Between Delhi and Montezuma the damage is very heavy, greater than by a single flood in twenty years. The largest injury is at Wild Cat. Besides several breaks in the bank and tow path, and the loss of the fine bridge over the creek, a new channel was formed around the north end of the dam, taking out the abutment. The aqueduct over creek 120 feet in length, was wholly swept out. The superstructure of Shawnee aqueduct, 90 feet long, is also gone. A new channel is formed around the south end of Shawnee dam, and one abutment taken out. At Col creek a breach was made through the guard-bank, and the stream passes around the dam. In addition to the damage to the structures named, there are numerous breaks in the banks of the Canal. Mr. Williams, the engineer, from whose report of damages we glean the above facts, states that the repairs have already been commenced, and navigation will be resumed throughout in time for the earliest shipments of the growing wheat crop.

Member of the Board of Public Works.

A correspondent of the Herald suggests J. L. WESTBURY for Member of the Canal Board, and a correspondent of the State Journal, AMES STONE, Jr. Both are experienced, practical business men, and possess in an eminent degree the old Jeffersonian qualifications for office.

Cleveland has another citizen admirably fitted for the Canal Board—one whose experience, incorruptible integrity, sound judgment, independent business, rapid economy and strict official accountability, are known as well and widely as the name of D. H. BEAUMONT, so long the Canal Collector of this Port, when the Public Works of Ohio were a source of revenue and not a drain on the State.

More of Secretary Floyd's Operations.

The Spaniards and the Gophers of former Administrations are put to the blush by Gov. Floyd of Mr. Buchanan's. Every day the Virginia Secretary is kept in office sinks the administration lower in disgrace. The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times writes on the 18th:

It appears as if we were never to have done with the very peculiar financial transactions which have distinguished Governor Floyd's administration of the War Department. I have just discovered another of his operations in this line, almost rivaling the famous gopher swindle. It is a plan by the name of Gordon has been procuring a claim before the Treasury Department for the last ten years for damages on account of depredations committed by Indians on a plantation of his father in law, in Alabama. Mr. Fisher, his father-in-law, has been making a claim for the same damages for the last ten years, and the Treasury Department has been paying him $27,000, which the Treasury Department held was a full and liberal satisfaction of all claims which he could bring against the Government. Attracted, however, by the reputation which Secretary Floyd has gained in financial matters, he has not acted slipped through Congress, referring his claim to the Secretary of War to compute and ascertain, if any, the amount due. The claim thus went into the hands of the Treasury Department, and the Treasury Department has been paying him $27,000, which the Treasury Department held was a full and liberal satisfaction of all claims which he could bring against the Government. Later from Cairo and Mount City.

The correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, under date of June 19th, furnishes the following:

"The Ohio is now forty feet above the point established by the engineers of the Cairo and Illinois Central Companies, as the line of ordinary low water mark, and is within less than a foot of the grade of the levees. This grade was established upon the statements of the 'oldest inhabitant,' whose memory reached back to 1800, and was supported by the fact that the feet above the highest water ever known. I understand that the same 'oldest inhabitant' says that he believes the water to be a little higher than it was in 1816, and much higher than at any subsequent stage. A large lumber pile went through the opening yesterday morning. The levee is undoubtedly a good thing for the town, as it will save the Mississippi levee from being carried away, and will prevent the town from being inundated by the water. It is nearly directly opposite the big levee, and the water from the Mississippi strikes across to it. The water from the inside runs through the crevice like a mill race, but there is no current there, and the water is not sufficient to cause any damage. The only important change in the condition of Cairo is the opening of a new crevice in the old Mississippi levee, a quarter of a mile above the Point. It broke early yesterday morning, and was soon one hundred feet wide, and the water was running at a rapid rate. A large lumber pile went through the opening yesterday morning. LECTURES IN LAW AND LOGIC.—Park Benjamin contracted last season with the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association of Cincinnati to lecture before the Association for $100. Previous to the time set for the lecture, he appeared in Cincinnati and gave lectures on his own account, the first well attended, the last barely paying expenses. The surfeit of Benjamin's twaddle was such that the Association declined to bear or pay him. He brought suit for the $100 and played the contract. The Association set up that Mr. B's course was contrary to the usage of lectures; that when they agreed to lecture for the Association they tacitly promised not to lecture in the city previously for the benefit either of themselves or any body else. The result of the trial was a verdict for the Association, and very properly too.

DICKENS AND HIS WIFE.—Charles Dickens has published a card in the London papers denying the scandal put afloat with reference to his family relations. He admits, however, some momentary differences with his wife, which have been aggravated into a serious alienation, and then invented infidelity on his part to account for that alienation. His card concludes as follows:

"I most solemnly declare, then—and this I do, both in my own name and in my wife's—that all the lately whispered rumors touching the trouble at which I have glanced, are abominably false, and that whoever repeats one of them after this denial will be as wilfully and as foolishly false as he who repeats the story of the fall of the House of Habsburg."

CHARLES DICKENS.

TOLSON BEARS.—Mr. W. C. EARL has become editor of the Blade, and in a neat salubrious gives promise that its fine temper and edge will be still more improved. We gladly welcome Mr. E. again to the tripod.

More of the Lottery Swindlers.

Judge McClure, of Pittsburgh, is doing up the business of the lottery swindlers in that city with proper efficiency. All the indicted, owing probably to the complicity of the police, made their escape before arrest last week, Morgan Bryan. He stood trial, was convicted, and the lawyers plead that he should be let off, child, and he was only a beginner, had a wife, children and mother depending upon him, that the law under which he was convicted was an old one that had not been enforced in Pittsburgh for a quarter of a century, etc., etc., and that the Court would do its duty by inflicting a mere nominal punishment.

But Judge McClure, the inflexible—would that such filled the bench every where—said he had no doubt Mr. Bryan was only a beginner, and by no means so worthy of punishment as others who have grown rich in the business—this is the first case. Some case must be made out of this, and he lay down to let him off. If this young man is sent to jail it will establish a precedent, and no one can be sent thereafter anywhere else. We thus repeat a seedling in the act, and wish to be mild and merciful, and to let the man who is a poor man. We wish it were some other man; some one who had grown rich in the business; who looks up his head. Those who are able, travel to Italy. If this is the only man to be sent to jail, it is the only man who is a poor man. We wish it were some other man; some one who had grown rich in the business; who looks up his head. Those who are able, travel to Italy. If this is the only man to be sent to jail, it is the only man who is a poor man.

Mr. Swartwelder here said that if the sentence were postponed until Saturday, some additional testimony would be produced that would show this prisoner worthy of the greatest stretch of mercy at the hands of the Court. The Court then sentenced Morgan Bryan to a fine of $100, and to undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for one year.

It is now said that the bogus Lottery firm of "Morris & Co., alias Norton and Sicken of this city," has been taken into the hands of the Postmaster General, and returned to them by Express. This is the latest dodge around the instructions of the Postmaster General; and the swindled public have good reason to rejoice that a dissolution of Post Office and bogus Lottery business in Cleveland draws nigh. Without the aid of the Department the knavish bubble would burst in a day.

As anything that is cool when the thermometer is in the shade is refreshing, even if it is impudently, we will just add a note from the beautiful "Carrier Dove for July," which bewitchingly and goldenly cools in the ears of credulous fools—"Send all Orders to Worth & Co., Cleveland, Ohio." It is the longest but not the strongest of "Worth & Co." Munchausenisms, and gives the uninitiated an insight into what might be done, but is not.

The Veil Withdrawn—The Mystery Revealed.

It is probable that but a very small proportion of our patrons have ever seen a lottery drawn, and therefore we have decided to draw a lottery in the manner in which such things are conducted. We hope they will not deem it uninteresting if we give them a brief and plain description of the process.

There is generally one of the Legal Lotteries drawn daily, commencing at 11 o'clock, A. M. At the hour appointed, the State Lottery Commissioners, the Managers, or their Agent, the Clerk, the Reporter for the Press, and as many spectators as choose to be present, assemble in the large office of the Commissioners. Upon a table stands a large hollow glass wheel, supported by a stand, and having a handle, and a large figure on the outside, and a large number of small balls, each having a number on it, and a large number of small balls, each having a number on it, and a large number of small balls, each having a number on it.

The wheel is about ten inches in diameter, its rim being of sheet copper, and upon the top of it is a small door, just large enough to admit a small ball. Numbers from 1 to 35 or 36, as the case may be, are printed in large figures on separate pieces of paper. A proper person mounted upon a convenient rostrum takes these papers in the order in which they are numbered, and after holding each to the view of the spectators and distinctly announcing the number, he twists them one by one, and placing each one into a hollow tin cylindrical tube, about the ordinary size of a tin can, and in which the wheel is placed, and the door is closed, and the wheel rapidly turned until the tubes which contain the numbers are commingled.

A young lad, generally not over six years of age, who is employed for that purpose, is then carefully blindfolded with a thick black scarf, and the boy thrusts in his hand, and takes out one ball after another. This number is then proclaimed, and duly registered as the first drawn number. The wheel is then again revolved, and the same process continued, until all the numbers to be drawn are taken from the wheel.

The first, second and third drawn numbers constitute the highest capital prize, and whoever holds a ticket with those numbers on, is entitled to the sum of $100,000, and the first drawn number is $100,000, and the second drawn number is $50,000, and the third drawn number is $25,000, and the fourth drawn number is $12,500, and the fifth drawn number is $6,250, and the sixth drawn number
